Saved Her Life.

Mrs. C. J. WOOLDRINGE, of Wortham, Texas, saved the life of her child by the use of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral.

use of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral.

"One of my children had Croup. The case was attended by our physician, and was supposed to be well under control. One night I was startled by the child's hard breathing, and on going to it found it strangling. It had nearly ceased to breathe. Realizing that the child's alarming condition had become possible in spite of the medicines given. I reasoned that such remedies would be of no avail. Having part of a bottle of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral in the house, I gave the child three doses, at short intervals, and anxiously waited results. From the moment the Pectoral was given, the child's breathing grew easier, and, in a short time, she was sleeping quietly and breathing naturally. The child is alive and well to-day, and I do not hesitate to say that Ayer's Cherry Pectoral saved her life."

In the evening there was a large attendance and an address by Rev. Henry J. Brown of Mexico on the "Universal Church." The text was that the church is Christ's body. H. T. Brooks Saturday closed a large real estate trade between Eugene Jones, of this county, and W. . Gardiner, of Montgomery county. Mr. Jones traded his hotel, known as the Leake House for $7,000 to Mr. Gardiner, taking the Laughlin residence property just east of Hardin College for $5,000. The Laughlin property is a nice piece of residence property and we are glad to know that Mr. Jones will at once move to Mexico in order to avail himself of our splendid school advantages and in all probability will go into business of some kind here. We take great pleasure in welcoming him

The Panic of 1893,

The panic of 1893 will excite the keenest interest of the student of political economy for a century to come. It was not the result of a failure of crops or of a war or convulsion of nature or conflagration of any other destruction of real wealth. It was caused by the defiance or plain economic laws. The new year holds out better things. The currency is now on a sound basis, and a rational revision of the tariff promises to stimulate our industries ing" as was never before known and the ground everywhere has been cleared for new enterprises. The great natural resources of the country are unimpaired, the indomitable energy of its people remains undiminished and nothing but a revival of confidence is needed to inaugurate a period of new and lasting prosperity. To make the hair grow a natural color, prevent baldness, and keep the scalp healty, Hall's Hair Renewer was invented, and has prov-
